WHO CAN APPLY FOR A CERTIFICATE *

Birth certificates are available to the registered person or a parent named in the birth certificate.

Death certificates are available to the spouse (including defacto partner), parents or children. (Evidence of relationship is required in all cases)

Marriage certificates are available to the bride or groom.

* Access conditions also apply for other applicant types. For specific requirements see www.dotag.wa.gov.au within Births, Deaths & Marriages and “Who Can Apply?”

If the certificate relates to a person other than yourself and you do not qualify under the Registry’s Certificate Access Policy, you must provide the written consent or authority from a person entitled to the certificate and you must also provide identification for yourself and the person for whom you are acting.

Privacy Considerations and Personal Records

Certificates held by the Registry contain sensitive and personal information. However the Registry allows unrestricted access for the issue of certificates of:-

- Births which occurred more than 75 years ago;
- Deaths which occurred more than 25 years ago;
- Marriages which occurred more than 60 years ago.

In recognition of the fact that fraudulent use of certificates reduces with the age of the record, identification requirements for the above unrestricted certificates will not be required.
